

THE BEST OF 2008

REM

This band have been talking up their next album for the best part of a year, so if it isn't the return to form they've been claiming, they're going to look pretty silly. Having Snow Patrol producer Jacknife Lee at the controls hints at a return to their more anthemic style (and more guitars... please).